High Interest Rates Work Against Sale of Saving Bonds

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Have
U.S. savings bonds become victims of a poorly controlled U.S. fiscal policy? One month's figures don't make a trend, but they do suggest that this could be so.

More U.S. savings bonds and Freedom Shares were redeemed than purchased last month, which isn't uncommon. In December the loss was $11 million.
But the January outflow of $61 million was the biggest in at least six years.

The outflow, which may be the greatest since Series E bonds were introduced 28 years ago, is not likely to turn into a flood, because there are many reasons for buying bonds: tax savings, the convenience of payroll deduction, patriotism. But the loss is of more than casual interest.

One of the most logical explanations is that investors found more lucrative interest rates elsewhere. And interest rates, we are reminded almost daily,
are rising because of inflation.

But is government the cause of inflation? To a very large extent, heavy government spending, sometimes greater than revenues, has been the strongest inflationary factor during the past two or three years.

Another inflation-related reason is offered in explanation.
Big bills were run up by consumers during Christmas, bills that, because of inflation, were higher than a year earlier. Very likely bonds were cashed to pay these bills.

It can be argued that the decline was to be expected, because savings bonds outstanding in December was a record $51.89 billion. But records are common in an economy growing larger every year.

Over the longer term, the growth in savings bonds outstanding looks like this: January 1969, $51.85 billion; January 1968, $51.37; January 1967, $50.36.

The increase of $1.5 billion is large, but as a percentage it is perhaps less than outstanding.
The accumulation of interest helped add to the total. So did a drive, begun in 1967 as "the biggest payroll savings campaign in history."

Adding to the January re-demptions, ironically, were some Freedom Shares, introduced in 1967 at a higher interest rate in hopes of spurring sales. Now, despite the higher rate, some are showing up in the opposite column.

Freedom Shares can be bought only in conjunction with a similar size or larger purchase of a Series E bond. The Freedom Shares, if held to maturity in 4½ years, provide 5 per cent interest. The Series bonds, if held to maturity in 7 years, yield 4.25 per cent.

There is another popular savings bond, the Series H. Unlike the Series E, in which interest accumulates and is paid on redemption, the interest on the Series H bond is paid every six months. It, too, yields 4.25 per cent.

These are the highest rates ever paid on savings bonds. But, a lot of people ask, what is the return to me from a 4.25 per cent bond when inflation can erode consumer buying power

Big-Power Conference Is Likely

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has indicated he would be willing to hold a summit meeting with Soviet leaders if lower-level talks show progress, preferably on both political and military matters.

Nixon aides say whether these conditions are met could be determined in the weeks ahead by the success of preliminary talks already started with the Soviet Union on a possible push for Middle East settlement.

At his Thursday news conference, Nixon said he takes a dim view of "instant summitry" but expressed the view he should meet with Soviet leaders "at a future time."

After returning March 3 from his projected five-nation European tour Nixon said, he intends "to conduct exploratory talks at various levels to see if such a meeting could take place."

But he cautioned that any summit meeting should be well prepared and that the agenda should cover "various differences that we have, on which we can perhaps make progress."

Nixon is scheduled to leave on his nine-day tour Feb. 23.

Inauguration Story Told by Routons

The men of the executive committee of the Hempstead County Republican party met with the Republican women Tuesday,
Feb. 4 in the Citizens bank lounge.

Business matters were discussed, primarily concerning fund-raising ideas.

The highlight of the meeting was the report given by Bill and Bonnie Routon on their trip to Washington for the inauguration of President Nixon.

Bill reported on the gala given by Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for the Arkansas visitors. Bill said that all members of the Arkansas congressional delegation attended, and that Senators Fulbright and McClellan attended the Arkansas section of the inaugural ball along with Congressman John Paul Hammerschmidt.

Three of the Arkansas governors' brothers, David, Lawrence, and Nelson, also came to the gala. Mrs. Routon reported on activities at the ball and said that she and Bill got word that the president was about to arrive and they managed to make their way through the crowd to the area and were about 15 feet away from the new president when he arrived at the Mayflower hotel ball room and spoke to those in attendance.

Both the Routons agreed that the air was electric with excitement and expectancy, and everyone should at some time have the opportunity to be present in Washington, D.C., for a presidents inauguration.

As a memory souvenir given at the ball Mrs. Routon received a gold-filled bracelet with a dangling square medallion bearing the inaugural seal and Mr. Rou-ton received cuff links engraved with the seal.

No Picket, Wins Fame Eating Fish

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) —
A 19-year-old college student from Texas has managed to make his mark without picketing, protesting, sitting in or shouting slogans. He simply swallowed a lot of goldfish—210 of them to be exact.

While many of his colleagues at colleges and universities from coast to coast were demonstrating for a variety of causes, Charles Winfield put on his own exhibition Thursday.

During an hour and 40-minute period, Winfield, a sophomore at St. Mary's University in San Antonio, swallowed one after another of the live fish while about 200 cheering students and faculty members looked on.

University officials—probably relieved at not being asked to relinquish control of the school —claimed his feat was a world's record. They said the previous record was 199, set in 1966 by a student at St. Francis College in Philadelphia.

Winfield, a native of Pharr, Tex., said he practiced for some time for his feat. "I ate a lot," he said, "and tried not to think about it."

The 145-pound youth managed to down the first 100 fish with ease.

willings to begin talks aimed at limitations on some strategic nuclear weapons but have not indicated whether parallel, if separate, discussions on political matters would be welcomed.
Nixon, it was said, seeks progress on both military and political negotiations, believing a successful summit could grow out of such development.

Talks on the Middle East crisis will, of course, be studied closely here for evidence that the United States and the Soviets might manage to carve out common ground on political as well as military problems.

During his forthcoming
"working trip" to Belgium,
West Germany, Italy, Great Britain and France, associates reported Nixon would search not only for areas of agreement among allied leaders but expressions of disagreement.

They said his ultimate aim is to strengthen ties with North Atlantic Treaty Organization members and give them a sense of full participation in alliance affairs.

This was the explanation given for Nixon's decision to stop first at NATO headquarters in Belgium.

White House sources said
there is no political significance to the timing of other stops, although some observers wondered why the President was winding up his trip in France, one of the thinner reeds in NATO, before returning home via the Vatican where he will confer with Pope Paul VI.

Nixon's decision to fly to West Berlin was said to reflect his determination to dramatize the commitment of four previous administrations to preserve the status quo in that Western enclave encircled by Communist East Germany.

Heavy Seas Spread Oil Over Beaches

SANTA BARBARA, Calif.

(AP) — Heavy seas kicking up waves six feet high delayed efforts to plug a leaking undersea well today as crude oil blackened more miles of California beaches.

The slick, growing by almost 1,000 gallons an hour, was an estimated 800 square miles in size and moving toward Los Angeles at three miles an hour.

"Unless the wind shifts, I don't know what can stop it," said William Kerrigan, district manager of the Ventura Port.

By Thursday night, some raw petroleum was reported in Ven-tura's marina 24 nautical miles south of oil-clogged Santa Barbara Harbor and 50 miles northwest of Los Angeles.

Heaviest concentrations were still around the drilling platform six miles at sea where swells up to 15 feet prevented a 300-man crew from efforts to stop the sea-leak by pumping a mineral mud preparation into the hole.

The Union Oil Co. crews pumped 3,000 barrels of the gooey substances into the hole a few days ago but it didn't do the job. When the sea calms enough, new barge loads will be poured into the fissure 325 feet below the ocean surface.

There was no indication how soon the 11-day-old leak might be plugged, a company spokesman said. Union Oil, one of several companies with federal leases to drill the offshore wells, also hoped to reach the ruptured formation by early next week with a slant well to relieve pressure.

Along the normally white sandy beaches, for more than 12 miles soaked a half-inch or more with oil, 500 men worked with log booms, straw and chemicals absorbents to hold back the oil and save the rich tourist business.

President Nixon was quoted in Washington by Rep. Charles M.
Teague, R-Calif., as saying military personnel and equipment would be available if needed to help combat damage.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Webster's New World Dictionary defines the word "satire" as "the use of ridicule, sarcasm, irony, etc., to expose, attack, or deride vices, follies etc..."

The viewer who sat through ABC's new "What's It All About, World?" during its premiere Thursday night might conclude the producers and writers who called their comedy-variety hour "satiric" either never read the definition or don't know the difference between the smart-alecky and ironic.

The show opened with a silhouette with a Texas accent complaining to "Ladybird" that he missed the White House, at which point another silhouette called "Hubert," chimed in that he did too. Dean Jones, the show's host, then appeared to ask who would have thought six months ago that Havana would become the world's busiest airport.

One sketch had a tough-talking Mafia boss preparing to "integrate" the Black Hand, and picking on a Negro handyman as the first initiate. It wasn't funny—just sort of embarrassing.

In another sketch, a little girl imitated Shirley Temple dancing and singing "It's Only a Paper Moon," dedicated to the astronauts. There was a tedious spoof of a TV interview show.

For shock, there was a sketch about a tap-dancing nun purportedly starring in a movie called "The Swinging Sister." She talked in a combination of pious language and show biz jargon.

Guest star Barbara Bain earnestly recited Pete Seeger's anti-war poem, "Where Have All the Flowers Gone?" illustrated by HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

Dear Helen: The 29-year-old woman who said she was still a virgin and not proud of it should think twice before she equips herself with the Pill and advertises that she is available to all takers. Being pure and untouched is not prudery unless she looks upon herself as a prude.

First, she should stop worrying. If you get anxious about never getting a man, you'll never get one.

She should join clubs, groups and get into work that helps others. How about night school? Many unattached people attend. And there are clubs for single persons in most cities. The library or the local newspaper reference room can usually provide an address.

When women develop a devil-may-care "Who needs to get married?" attitude, it's surprising how soon someone DOES start caring.

As for having an affair, she'd better forget it until she is at least 35. They tie you down and keep you for eligible, marriage-minded men. Usually an older woman gets involved with a man as a permanent life for her is concerned.

Joining a political party and getting active as a worker is a good idea. Maybe an art institute, or a hiking club, or a dancing club? Or how about a cruise

Beban May Be Lombardi Ace in Hole

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vince Lombardi, chosen to lead Washington out of the Dark Ages in Football, is looking at Heisman Trophy bust Gary Beban as the new Golden Boy for the Redskins' revival.

Lombardi marched into the nation's capital Thursday to take command of the Redskins after a decade of unprecedented greatness at Green Bay and made Beban the focus of his very first move.

Calling for complete movies of Beban's play as a rollout quarterback for UCLA, Lombardi promised a long off-season study to decide where to use Beban—with the strong possibility of turning him into a runner.

The movie invoked immediate memories of 10 years ago when Lombardi arrived in Green Bay and took another Heisman Trophy quarterback off the bench to make him one of football's most celebrated ball carriers the Golden Boy—Paul Hornung.

Beban, unimpressive in his brief trial as a rookie pro quarterback last year, scored more touchdowns as a runner at UCLA, than did by passing.

Lombardi stressed the need for a strong running attack and said, "The running game is what football is all about. The more you run, the more hard-nosed you are."

The Redskins were dead last in running yardage in the National Football League last fall.

Lombardi, who has never coached a loser in his lifetime, is taking over a team that hasn't had a winning season since 1955.

He will be executive vice president, coach and part-owner of the Redskins under a contract that may embrace as much as a million dollars in stock and long-term salary.

"Washington is the world's capital," Lombardi said. "And we have plans to make it the football capital."

But at one point he laughed and said, "Despite what you may think, I can't walk across the Potomac—even when it's frozen."

Perhaps no coach in football history has been watched as closely as Lombardi will be next season to see if the man can match the myth.

Unknown and unsung, Lombardi came to Green Bay almost exactly a decade ago to coach a team that had won only one game the previous season.

Within two years he had his first conference title. In the next seven, he won five NFL championships and capped his triumphs with the first two Super Bowl victories.

His retirement from coaching after the second Super Bowl success lasted just one year and four days.

"I made a great mistake giving up coaching," the restless, relentless Lombardi conceded Thursday.

He was smiling as much as he did when he won that first Super Bowl. He was happy to be back.

No Mediation
on Baseball Pensions

NEW YORK (AP) — Major league baseball's club owners rejected Thursday an offer by the players to go to mediation in the dispute over rights to television money that has prompted the players to threaten a strike.

The owners, in the first negotiating session since both sides hardened their lines earlier this week, said mediation would lead to new delays and complications. They said it would be better to keep bargaining.

The players, who are asking a

50-50 split of the national television money, then asked the owners to propose a compromise solution when the parties meet again Friday.

9 Races for Oaklawn Opener Today

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Oaklawn Park's 50-day racing season began this afternoon with a nine-card program planned.

The forecast for post time was for cloudy skies and temperatures in the 60s, which track officials said should boost the opening day crowd. Last year, 10,195 fans wagered $696,455 on the initial day of the season.

The 50-day season was inaugurated last year at Oaklawn and track officials expect attendance and wagering records to fall. More than 486,000 persons wagered $35,796,289 during the 1968 season.

Last year, a horse named T. Town Tony, who was entered in the seventh race today, returned the highest payoff of the 1968 Oaklawn season, $205.80 for a $2 win ticket. Fantastic Career yielded the lowest return for a $2 ticket, $2.60.

The largest daily double, $1,121.60, was paid when Wild Sketch and Repunch won the first and second races. The smallest daily double last year was $14.40.

Favorites won 125 of the 438 races run in 1968 at Oaklawn. The season winds up April 5 with the $50,000 added Arkansas Derby.

M. H. Van Berg, the leading owner at Oaklawn the last two years, returns with 40 head.

Van Berg's horses won 30 races last year at Oaklawn, placed second 22 times and third 21 times. His thoroughbreds picked up purses of more than $1 million nationwide.

Jean Brennan will have 33 horses, Paul Adwell 25, W. H. Bishop 33, Dr. John Hundley 40 and John D. Asken 21, among the 1,400 horses at Hot Springs.

Gene Goff of Fayetteville, owner of Arkansas Derby winner Nodouble, says his colt may return for the $50,000 Oaklawn Handicap March 29. Nodouble won all three starts last year at Hot Springs and was the top money winner with $43,995.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — North Little Rock sprinter Carl Lowe said Thursday he would accept a football scholarship from the University of Arkansas.

If the Razorbacks sign Lowe, he would become the first Negro football player at the university. Tuesday is the first day of recruiting in the Southwest Conference.

Lowe, who runs the 100-yard in 9.6 seconds, said Arkansas wanted him as a flanker.

The speedster said he had visited six other schools, including UCLA, Southern California and Kansas State.

50-50 split of the national television money, then asked the owners to propose a compromise solution when the parties meet again Friday.

Henderson Maintains 2-Game Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Henderson Reddies maintained their two-game lead in the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference Thursday night by rolling up a 73-62 victory over Arkansas College's Highlanders.

Ouachita held on to second place with a 69-60 victory over State College of Arkansas. Henderson is 13-1 in league play and Ouachita is 11-3.

In other conference games Thursday night, Arkansas Tech whipped Ozarks 88-79, Southern State clipped Harding 78-68 and Arkansas A&M downed Hendrix 86-74.

Henderson took the lead over the Scots with 10:10 left in the first half and never trailed. Mike Peterson led the Reddies with 17 points. Bill Cossey fired in 29 points for the Scots.

Roger Patillo pitched in 20 points to pace Ouachita past SCA. The Tigers led 34-33 at halftime but had to overcome an early second half lead by SCA to gain the victory.

Tech, with a 10-4 record, remained in contention with its home-court victory over Ozarks. The Mountaineers led 45-42 at halftime, but the Wonder Boys took the lead for good with 9:23 left in the game. Tommy Shaw led Tech with 29 points. Bob Sloan had 28 for Ozarks.

Southern State moved into a three-way tie for fourth place in the conference standings with its victory over Harding. The Blisons, Mulieriders and SCA all have 7-7 records. Ronny Tollett pumped in 30 points to lead the Mulieriders. Bob McKeel had 29 for Harding.

A&M broke a four-game losing streak with its victory over Hendrix. Tommy Morrison scored 24 points for the Aggies and Dewayne Nash led Hendrix with 16.

Iron Ruler

at Hialeah

By ED SCHUYLER JR.

Iron Ruler figures to be the big chief in the Seminole Handicap, but don't count out such racing warriors as Funny Fellow, Out The Window and Mr. Broggan.

Although the favorite's role for the $50,000-added race for 3-year-olds and up at Hialeah Park most likely will go to Iron Ruler, Wheatley Stable's Funny Fellow has drawn the high weight of 121 pounds, one more than the October House Farm runner.

Out The Window, owned by James R. Chapman, has been assigned 118 pounds, the same as Lucco's Triple King II, while John L. Greer's Mr. Broggan and R. W. Taylor's Irish Dude each have drawn 116.

A field of 12 is expected for the 1½-mile test.

Simpson and Buffalo Split
on Salary

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ralph C. Wilson Jr., owner of the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League, said Thursday that after six hours of talks with representatives of O. J. Simpson the two sides were miles apart in their contract talks.

The Bills gained the right to the Southern California, Heisman Trophy winner in the combined league draft, but still must settle on a contract.

Simpson has been quoted as saying he is seeking a combination bonus and contract in the neighborhood of $600,000.

"It is hoped by the Buffalo Bills management that at our next meeting we will narrow the gap. I am hoping we can, because I would like to stay on as Buffalo owner," Wilson said with levity.

World record holder Bob Seagren paces the pole vaulting field which should top the games record of 16 feet, 6 inches. Seagren set an indoor record of 17-5½ at Albuquerque last week. Olympian John Pennel and Dick Ralsback of UCLA will push Seagren.

Seagren is one of five Olympic gold medal winners entered in the meet.

Willie Davenport, Olympic 110-meter high hurdles champion, will seek his 10th consecutive indoor victory on the ultra-modern track purchased only last year.

Stock broker Randy Matson, who won his gold medal with a shot put of 65 feet, 8½ inches, is a heavy favorite in his specialty.

Other U.S. Olympians scheduled to compete are long jumpers Bob Beamon and Ralph Boston and swift Charlie Green, a member of American's 400-meter relay team that rocketed to a world record of 38.2 seconds at Mexico City.

Beamon has been voted the nation's outstanding track athlete for his fantastic long jump of 29-2¼ in the Olympics.

Davenport comes to Fort Worth following world indoor records of 5.3 seconds for the 45-yard high hurdles at Boston and 13.5 in the 120-yard hurdles in the meet at the Astrodome.

Bob Foster
Is 'Fighter
of the Year'

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Foster, the light heavyweight champion who once quit the ring because he couldn't get fights, was hailed today as Fighter of the Year for 1968 by the Boxing Writers Association.

The towering, 30-year-old boxer from Washington, D.C., manager Angelo Dundee and publicist John F. X. Condon of New York, will be honored at the BWA's 44th annual dinner. It will be held on April 12 at the Grossinger Hotel and Country Club, at Grossinger, N.Y.

Dundee, manager of Jimmy Ellis, the World Boxing Association's heavyweight champion, former welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez and a string of other topflight boxers, won the Al Buck Award as Manager of the Year. Dundee lives in Miami Beach.

Condon, boxing public relations director at Madison Square Garden for nearly nine years, will receive the James J. Walker Memorial plaque for "long and meritorious service to boxing." Condon is a native New Yorker.

Foster will receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial plaque, named in honor of The Associated Press sports writer who was killed while reporting the Spanish Civil War.

The 6-foot-3, 175-pounder edged Joe Frazier, the five-state heavyweight champion from Philadelphia, 20-17 in a runoff vote Thursday.

In the initial voting Foster received 16 votes, Frazier 15, and Australia's Lionel Rose, the bantamweight champion, and Italy's Nino Benvenuti, the middleweight champion, three votes each.

The second vote was taken because the BWA's rules require the winner to have a majority of the total votes.

"I'm surprised and delighted to get this award," said Foster in Washington. "This is the greatest honor of my career. I regret I had to beat Joe Frazier out of it but I'm willing to settle it in the ring."

Foster won the light heavyweight crown last May 24 by knocking out defender Dick Tiger of Biafra in the fourth round at Madison Square Garden. It was the first time the durable, game Tiger ever had been stopped.

In his first defense two weeks ago, Foster stopped Frankie De Paula of Jersey City, N.J., in the first round at the Garden. He has won 13 straight, 12 of them by kayos. His record is 34-4, including 28 knockouts.

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A galaxy of Olympic stars headlines tonight's ninth annual Coaches Indoor Games with high interest centered on what is expected to be a record-smashing performance in the pole vault.

A near-capacity crowd of 10,000 will be on hand in the brand new convention center, which is the site of the meet for the first time.

Plagues Bob
Hope Tourney

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Scrawled in chalk on a big board in the press tent was the message:

Weather perfect. Temperature 80.

Both board and message were gone today as the 90-hole Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic ventured—perhaps perilously—into the third round.

Leading the way was Rod Funseth, with a 36-hole score of 69-66—135, nine shots under par for the distance.

One stroke back was National Open champion Lee Trevino, 67-69—136. Billy Casper was down with 71-68—139.

And further back were such esteemed golfers as Jack Nicklaus, 72-71—143, and the three-time defending champion, Arnold Palmer, 72-73—145.

The marathon tournament ends Sunday. To some, it would be a blessing if the end came sooner.

What happened to the missing sign?

It disappeared sometime Thursday from the press tent at Indian Wells Country Club, host club for the 1969 Hope.

It was probably when cold winds were almost whipping the flaps off the tent, the lights were rocking above and there was the suspicion the whole structure might take off.

No one really wanted to step outside, however, because it was raining up a storm. This condition began early in the morning, stopped, bowed out momentarily for a bright rainbow and the sun.

Neither the sun or the rainbow could stand it long, and back came the gloomy skies and rain.

It was, old time observers agreed, the most miserable day in the 10-year-old history of the tournament.

Perhaps the finest shooting was turned in by Trevino and Casper, who got their sub par scores during the worst stages of the day.

Temperature 80, the sign said? Maybe so, because electric heaters were working overtime in the press tent.

McKeel has made 85 out of 93 for a .914 percentage. He replaces Robert Thompson of Philander Smith as the leader, who has hit 56 of 57, who did not meet the requirement this week of having made 65 free throws.

Bobkittens Win Over Nashville

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Continuing their torrid scoring pace of the past few weeks, the Hope Bobkittens whipped the Nashville Junior Scrappers 58-44 last night at Jones Field House.

Three consecutive wins and seven victories in eight games have given the Kittens a 10-6 mark for the season, and this one avenged a December 39-27 loss at Nashville. The Scrappers, meanwhile, suffered only their second loss of the season for a 13-2 record.

Coach Jim Jordan's forces make their last home court appearance tonight at Jones Field House, playing the 6:30 p.m. game against the tough Magnolia Panther Cubs, who won an earlier meeting 50-29.

Nashville came out in a full-court press early and used it most of the entire game, while the Kittens mainly relied on their very successful 1-3-1 zone. Hope guard Buddy Ingram almost singlehandedly ruined the Nashville press, and the Bobkittens grabbed a 15-8 lead at the quarter.

Things cooled off in the second period, as Hope could only manage seven points while Nashville cut the deficit. Halftime arrived, and what had been a decent Hope lead had reverted to only a 22-20 edge.

Both teams placed high value on winning the third quarter, and the outcome was in doubt for quite a while. Not to be denied, the Scrappers kept fighting back till they finally regained the lead at 30-29, but that was the climax for Nashville folks.

Lead on by consistent free throw shooting (24 of 37 for the game), the Bobkittens ran off eight in a row to the quarter buzzer, and suddenly Hope had some breathing room at 37-30.

Hope's will to win showed forth in the final six minutes, though, with fast breaking and few turnovers helping the cause. When the dust finally cleared Coach Jordan

There may not be a word of truth in it, but there's a rumor around that he's soft on hatred!

You'd think a physician who's been practicing as long as Dr. Probe would know better than to frustrate a patient by telling him there is nothing wrong with him!

Americanism

Liberty, as proclaimed by law and constitutions, can never have full meaning without the added ingredients of Fraternity and Brotherhood; without the spirit of friendliness and unselfishness — love for one's fellows. Those powerful qualifying attributes help spell out what Americanism is. When one sees a family unit, parents and children, with Bibles in hand, attending church to worship as they please — then one is witnessing Liberty in its finest and most fullsome forms, for that, too, is American. Freedom of religious worship is equally important, along with economic freedom and freedom from oppression, in America. Then worship God as you please but be sure to worship — that is Americanism.

"My Compass"

Community-minded sponsors listed below urge you to go to church - give your soul - smothered by many worldly interests - a chance to breathe.

BIG DUCT FOR A BIG ENGINE. Full-scale mockup of reportedly the world's largest inlet duct for an aircraft engine takes shape in California. Called the "S-duct," it will channel air from atop the fuselage of Lockheed's L-1011 advanced trijet to its No. 2 engine located at the rear. When completed, the duct will be 30 feet long by more than seven feet in diameter.

Nixon Friend Has Unique Guarantee

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Charles Gregory (Bebe) Rebozo, the Florida businessman who became an instant celebrity last November, has a unique can't-lose $2.4 million federal guarantee of rent payments on a shopping center he's about to open.

Rebozo became a national figure following the election when the public suddenly became aware of his close friendship to President Nixon. But his shopping center project was arranged about two years ago while the Democrats controlled the federal government and Nixon was a lost thought in the political wilderness.

The Miami financier was asked to build the shopping center for Cuban refugee businessmen. The man who asked him was Thomas Butler, then and now the Miami-based regional director for the Small Business Administration.

Butler also is (1) a close personal friend of Rebozo, (2) owner of land on an island Rebozo would like to develop as a residential or resort site, and (3) a charter stockholder in a bank founded and headed by Rebozo.

Rebozo wasn't available for comment. Since election night, he has worked assiduously to stay clear of comment or controversy that might embarrass Nixon politically. He is a personal friend—not a political associate—of the President. Nixon has been a frequent guest in Rebozo's home and the new vacation White House Nixon has purchased is next door to the financier's house on posh Key Biscayne near Miami.

The property was purchased from George Sniathers, the Florida Democrat who retired this year after three terms in the U.S. Senate.

Sniathers is a long-time friend of Rebozo and it was to one of the senator's aides that Rebozo turned for assistance when the Cuban shopping center appeared to be foundering on bureaucratic reefs.

At the time Sniathers was chairman of the Senate Small Business Committee which, among other things, passes on the Small Business Administration's budget requests.

The staff director of the committee, William McNamara, said in an interview that he intervened, at Rebozo's request, and got the SBA to expedite final approval of the project. McNamara went on to say neither Sniathers nor the committee had suggested the shopping center.

An SBA official in Washington insisted privately there was no politics in the deal—but threw up his hands and good-naturedly said, "I don't know what we would have done" if such an arrangement had been proposed during the Nixon administration.

In an interview, Butler said Rebozo is the only person he asked to consider taking on the project, but dismissed questions about his investments in Rebozo's business ventures as "trying to make something out of nothing."

The shopping center is being developed under a 3-year-old lease guarantee program of the SBA—but it's the first, and so far the only one, to receive a federal guarantee that 100 per cent of all tenants' rents for 20 years will be paid.

Although the financing arrangements for the 26-unit center seemingly constitute a guaranteed profit for Rebozo and his partner, C. V. W. Trice Jr., a Miami real estate developer, the SBA, Trice and a private consultant unanimously agreed there's no big money in the center's rents.

Rebozo and Trice apparently are banking on prosperity in the area, however, because they've bought land across the street for an office building. The SBA, Trice and the consultant all say any significant profit from the shopping center would come from rising land values brought on by such prosperity.

Carl Akeley, the American explorer, is buried on Mt. Mikeno in Africa.

Divorce Rising in Families as Children Complete Schooling

By KAY BARTLETT
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim and Martha had been married for 21 years. They worked together to raise the children and when the youngest set off for college—they set off for the divorce court.

Jim and Martha are part of the swelling "20-year fracture," the couples who stay together through the children's tonsillitis, the crises of their first dates and heartaches and long sessions at PTA meetings and then file for divorce when the problems are at last solved.

"It is a fact of life today that more and more couples in their forties and fifties are seeking divorce," Dr. Alfred A. Messer, professor of psychiatry at Emory University writes in the January issue of "Mental Hygiene." "There used to be a feeling that the longer a marriage endured, the greater the chance it would not end in divorce."

But statistics and clinical evidence show this is no longer true, according to Dr. Messer's article, "Dissolution of Long-Standing Marriages."

Nearly a quarter of the persons filing for divorce in 1963 had been married for 15 years or more.

Dr. Messer suggests a number of reasons: affluence, more liberal attitudes and laws regarding divorce, inadequate courtship 20 years earlier, homes that are too child-centered and a vertical family unit where aunts, uncles and grandparents are many miles away and fail to re-enforce the concept of family.

"There can be no doubt that some of the long-standing marriages now terminating were begun haphazardly during the bleak days of the second World War," he said in the article.

Statistics, he said, are unreliable, but estimates indicate that in more than one-third of today's marriages, the bride is pregnant as she walks down the aisle.

"No doubt many such marriages are happy and enduring, but, in some instances, a question may remain in the minds of the spouses about whether the marriage would have taken place if there had been no pregnancy.

"Some of these unions endure out of a sense of guilt and obligation; and, once the children leave home this sense of responsibility and guilt is relieved and the reasons for continuing the marriage may no longer be the same."

Dr. Messer suggests the most significant element in the dissolution of long-standing marriages results from what he calls the "century of the child." "The children have become a nucleus around which most activities revolve. There are endless carpools for school, for music and art lessons, and for athletic activities; there are spend-the-night parties that parents must oversee; and there are cookouts and campouts."

In this child-oriented society, parents begin to look more and more to their children for gratification and a purpose in life.

"The woman may begin to cook and dress for her children, rather than her husband. The man may begin to feel more comfortable going off somewhere with his youngsters than with his wife."

"What happens, then, when the children grow up and leave the house? A void ensues."

Cubans Form Bulk of New Citizens

By THEODORE A. EDIGER
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — So many Cuban exiles are becoming U.S. citizens that courtrooms here are no longer big enough to hold them. The swearing-in ceremonies are held monthly in public halls.

A waiting list of more than 1,000 is reported.

"If it weren't for the Cubans we wouldn't have many new citizens," commented U.S. District Judge Clyde C. Atkins, in charge of the court committee for naturalization.

More than 80 per cent in each citizenship class are Cubans. Before the Cuban influx, the ceremonies were held only four times a year.

More than 750 new citizens were sworn at a hearing in the Dade County auditorium in December, Atkins reported. More than 350 went in Jan. 22 at a ceremony in Bayfront Park. The largest federal courtroom accommodates 250 persons.

The size of the citizenship classes, Atkins explained, depends on the number processed by the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

While official figures on the number of exiles taking citizenship are unavailable, Fernando Penabaz, Florida chairman of the nationalities division of the Republican party, reported about 20,000 have registered as voters in the state in the last four years.

Cuban-born lawyer Carlos Fernandez, who watches the citizenship picture closely, estimated that nearly 20,000 Cubans have become U.S. citizens in the Miami area alone since Fidel Castro's 1959 emergence to power.

Projected nationwide, Fernandez said, a proportionate citizenship movement is occurring. An estimated half-million Cuban exiles live in the United States, more than half of them outside the Miami area.

"Citizenship applications will keep pyramiding, and in many there will be a flood of them," Fernandez predicted. He points out that a law giving Cuban refugees credit for two and one-half years of the usual citizenship residence requirement of five years was passed Nov. 1, 1966. That period elapses May 1, opening the gates.

Fernandez estimated more than 1,000 exile applicants still await processing by immigration authorities. Other observers place the waiting line higher.

Hundreds are in line to become citizens at the next hearing, tentatively scheduled for Feb. 24 in the American Legion hall.

'Broadening Base'
Only Adds to
Total Sales Tax

Your editor's stint in this spot was missing Thursday — the reason being that for the second time in two weeks I was called to Little Rock on matters pending before the General Assembly.

Thursday morning the House Committee on Revenue and Taxation held a hearing on H.B. 111 which proposes to extend the 3 per cent sales tax to newspaper, magazine, television, radio, and outdoor advertising.

The communications industry resists the bill because, (1) Every industry is bound to defend its trade and customers, and (2) Any broadening of the sales tax base whatsoever means that the cost will be passed on to shoppers in higher prices.

The sales tax, of which this editor was an original promoter, was set up in March 1935 as a one-time 2 per cent levy against tangible goods only and was required to be paid by the final purchaser. Its effect upon the poor was tempered by the exemption of food, clothing, and medicine. But the state welched on this exemption, removing it in 1941. And in 1957 the tax rate was increased to 3 per cent across the board.

Now the politicians are maneuvering to strike out the exemptions for intangibles — proposing to tax advertising, and probably subscriptions, cleaning, laundry and barbershop work and other services.

Obviously this is a money-raising program; obviously it is expected to be paid ultimately by the consuming public — which means you.

No man knows what any legislature will finally decide. But there is a rising tide in the Arkansas General Assembly which opposes any tinkering with the sales tax until other tax sources are examined and reformed.

Year after year the lawmakers have been asked to make another trip to the sales tax well — but 1969 may well be the year that the legislature revolts.

Mixed-Drink Bill Is Introduced

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs Thursday introduced a bill in the Arkansas Senate to authorize the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board to issue Class 6 permits to allow on-premise consumption of liquor.

The bill would allow the on-premise consumption in hotels, motels and restaurants with Class 6 permits in counties where liquor sales are legal.

In the Arkansas House, Rep. George Rodgers Jr. of Stuttgart introduced a bill that would provide that no funds be appropriated to merge Little Rock University and the University of Arkansas until adequate funds have been appropriated to finance all vocational technical schools established or authorized by the legislature.

Both the Senate and House already have passed three bills to establish vocational technical schools. Rodgers says he expects at least 15 more schools will be approved by the General Assembly.

"If the governor vetoes these vocational technical school bills," Rodgers said, "he will strike an irreparable blow to education and the state's industrialization program."

He said that when vocational technical schools are properly built according to standards laid down by the Department of Education they would reach another one-third of the young people.

Rodgers said this would result in accelerated industrialization "and be more advantageous to all the citizens than the proposed merger."

Meanwhile, in the Senate, Sen. Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway proposed a bill to levy a special excise tax of two per cent on all alcoholic beverages sold in the state. The tax would go to establish a retention institution for alcoholics under the supervision of the Arkansas Commission on Alcoholism.

Nixon Halts Anti-Missile Program

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Widening public protests against the Sentinel antimissile system apparently were significant in the Nixon administration's decision to hold up work and take another look at the project.

The protests, centering in a half dozen metropolitan areas chosen for antimissile installations, have resulted in a surge of letters to congressmen and senators.

Critical mail reaching the Pentagon, some referred by the White House, also reflects concern of people living elsewhere in the country. The letters express worry about the growth of nuclear weapons and any possible negative effect the U.S. antimissile system would have on arms control talks with Soviet Union.

The rising public objections are credited with winning some recruits to a Senate group which last year failed in a series of legislative efforts to block funds for the Sentinel. They hope to succeed this year.

Even some previously unsupportive supporters of the Sentinel, such as Chairman L. Mendel Rivers of the House Armed Services Committee, are showing signs of uncertainty. Rivers has postponed his committee's consideration of proposed antimissile sites until the administration makes up its mind.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported in a copyright story today, quoting Senate sources, that the administration has already decided not to deploy the Sentinel system although it plans to go ahead with antimissile research and development.

The newspaper said the administration plans to announce its decision in mid-March along with the announcement of arrangements for arms control talks with the Soviet Union.

A Pentagon analysis of editorial reaction concluded that a significant number of newspapers which previously supported the Sentinel program began late last year to advance reasons for delay.

The analysis, prepared last month, said that "the actual selection of Sentinel sites near several large cities in late 1968 increased the demands for further public discussion."

Army officials said the major protest movement started last mid-November in Chicago, proposed site for a Sentinel base, led by a group of nuclear physicists.

Trick of the Day Is to Come Down With Unheard - of Disease

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you bored with the Hong Kong flu, the 24-hour virus, the common cold and the people who brag about having been felled by these tiresome winter ailments?

Why not startle your friends and create envy in your enemies by coming down with an interesting new affliction they probably never even heard of — a disease for all seasons?

All you have to do is to explore your hidden fears, and the chances are you'll find you've been suffering all your life from something you never even know you had. For one of the laws of medicine guarantees that for every illness there is a fear and for every fear there is an illness.

For example: Ever feel a bit edgy when strolling alone through a dark heavily wooded area? Why, you poor thing, you're a walking case of hypophobia, the fear of forests.

Ever race for a bus and then, when your heart begins to palpitate, pause and wonder if you're going to keel over? You've probably been reading too many articles about heart attacks. Your problem is only anginophobia, the fear of angina pectoris.

Now then do you get mad at your boss because he loads so many duties on you that you think he's trying to work you to death. Calm down. All you've got is a touch of topophobia, the

Ocean Tests Mere 'Cover' for Pueblo

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) —

The senior oceanographer aboard the USS Pueblo, a civilian, says one of his assignments was to serve as a cover for the intelligence ship.

In fact, said Dunnie R. Tuck, when the first North Korean gunboat appeared on the day of capture he began lowering water-testing bottles over the side "to show the North Koreans why we were there."

But when the Koreans began firing, the ship's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd Bucher, shouted: "Frier Tuck, get that damned gear up here. I'm leaving."

Tuck, 31, of Richmond, Va., told a Navy court of inquiry Thursday that making hydrographic tests—obtaining samples of ocean water for analysis—was one of the main parts of his assignment. But, said Tuck, his orders were to handle his work "on a not-to-interfere basis" with the main surveillance mission of the ship, which Bucher has described as watching Soviet vessels and North Korean radar.

"It was one of my missions to serve as cover for the ship, to show that it was an oceanographic test ship," Tuck said.

Attacks on Military Hurting Churches, Churchman Declares

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Church

people today often take a negative view of military service, but a religious expert on the subject says it can enhance a man's capabilities, character and faith.

"He can come out of it a better man," says the Rev. Edward I. Swanson.

"It has positive values that many clergymen these days have tended to overlook. By their antagonism toward military life, they've also hurt their ministry to a large number of Americans."

Unlike past wartime periods when soldiers were accorded general esteem, he says that because of extensive opposition to the Vietnam war, much of the resentment has been turned without reason on the soldiers themselves.

"They've been treated like second-class citizens and outsiders, and made to wonder if they're allens to their own countrymen," he said in an interview.

Father Swanson, of the Episcopal Church's office for the armed forces, has turned out a new manual, under sponsorship both of Protestant and Catholic agencies, to guide church work relating to the military sphere.

"It's a big and urgently needed ministry, involving a big segment of modern American life," he said, noting that 3.2 million servicemen plus their dependents make a total military community of seven million to eight million.

There are 4,100 clergymen now on duty as chaplains, and also 36,3 million young men registered for the draft, and a turnover process returning 740,000 veterans annually to civilian life.

12 Die in Australian Rail Wreck

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — At least 12 persons and possibly as many as 28 were killed today when the Sydney-Melbourne streamliner express roared into a freight train and burst into flames 104 miles northeast of Melbourne.

Of the 190 passengers aboard the gleaming Southern Aurora, Victoria State Police said 10 bodies had been recovered, two others persons were known dead, and a number of others were not accounted for.

Twelve hours after the crash, rescue workers were still prying apart the twisted, burned wreckage of one sleeping car in which 20 persons were traveling.

About 100 passengers were injured, 40 of them seriously enough to be hospitalized.

hugs, mobile, rotating mass of Americans, Father Swanson provides detailed information and advice for serving men before, during and after military service.

"If a man is disregarded by his church during two or three years of service, and gets no letters from his congregation or clergy, he's not likely to come running back to the church afterward," Father Swanson said. "It may then be too late to say, 'We care about you.'"

The guidebook, called "Ministry to the Armed Forces," is being distributed under auspices of the Inter-Protestant General Commission on Chaplains and Armed Forces personnel and community-service and youth agencies of the U.S. Catholic Conference.

Father Swanson, taking issue with what he termed the "wide-spread hostility" toward military life in religious circles, said the experience can make a "positive contribution" to a young man's inner stability.

"The opportunities for educational advancement and character development are enormous," he said. "This is not generally appreciated by the civilian church."

Cold Due Today and Saturday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Warm weather is expected to end tonight as a cold front moves through Arkansas.

The cold front was located in eastern Arizona today and was expected to move into the Arkansas area tonight and then continue moving through the state by late Saturday.

Southerly winds ahead of the front are expected to bring moisture into the state and showers and thundershowers should develop tonight and continue into Saturday.

The showers will end after the passage of the front. Temperatures Thursday rose into the 70s in some areas but highs Saturday are expected to be in the 50s.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 29 at Fayetteville to 43 at Texarkana and Pine Bluff. Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 6 a.m. ranged from a trace at Little Rock to .02 at Blytheville.

Police Want 'Eye In Sky'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Police Department wants a helicopter-mounted "eye in the sky," a flying television camera, so its tactical commanders can keep a close watch on "unusual occurrences." The city police commission asked the City Council to obtain the $55,000 necessary.

Assembly Extension Rumored

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Roscoe Brown of Jonesboro said today that if the legislature doesn't "get going" the chances are it will be called back for a special session.

"I'm definitely ready to go in early and stay late to get this thing on the road," he said. "Some of the thinking now is that they may want to extend this thing. I don't have any concrete proof but there is a rumor to that effect."

Brown said that if the 60-day session is extended the legislators would probably go home for a couple of weeks and then return. The session is scheduled to end March 13.

Whether or not Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller extends the session depends on what portion of his $195 million tax program is approved, Brown said.

"We're still waiting on some of his bills," says Brown. "They should have been introduced a week or two ago."

"If he gets pretty close to the sales tax he may call us back," says Brown, "but if it loses by a pretty good majority, which I think it will, he won't."

Rockefeller has asked the legislature to increase the sales tax from three per cent to four per cent. Some of the legislators contend, however, that tax loopholes should be closed before the sales tax is increased.

"If some of these loopholes are not closed this sales tax hasn't got a chance," Brown said.

Brown says that despite the administration's tardiness the legislature still has time to act on the tax bills.

"I think they ought to be introduced and we ought to vote them up or vote them down," he says. "I'm not saying they don't need study, but I think we're familiar with the bills."

Will Try to Override WR Veto

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff said Thursday he may try to muster strength to override Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's veto of his bill to tighten parole eligibility requirements.

Nelson said he wanted to talk to Robert Sarver, commissioner of corrections, before making up his mind.

Rockefeller vetoed the bill Wednesday, saying it circumvented the discretion of courts that commit criminals to prison.

The bill makes parole eligibility requirements the same as they were before Act 50 of 1968. Under the bill, an inmate would become eligible after serving a third of his sentence. An inmate serving a life sentence would become eligible for parole when his term had been commuted and he had served a third of the time to which the sentence was commuted.

Counsel for Sirhan Are Waiving Fees

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Bishara Sirhan and his mother testified during some preliminary legal maneuvering about how little income the family had—a few thousand dollars a year.

Yet three prominent criminal trial lawyers are defending him. Where is the money coming from?

Grant Cooper, 65, the chief defense attorney, says he and Russell E. Parsons, 69, and Emile Zola Berman, 66, are working for free. What would such a legal trio cost a rich man?

"A half million dollars probably would not be out of line," says Cooper.

How can Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian charged with murder in the slaying of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, command such legal defenders?

"I've been making speeches around the country to associations and service clubs on the duty of lawyers to represent persons accused, especially in unpopular cases. I decided I'd better practice what I was preaching," explains Cooper. "And I like to be where the action is. It's an interesting case and a challenge."

Until now, perhaps Cooper's best known case was the defense of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Finch's paramour, Carole Tregoff, who were convicted of murdering Finch's pregnant wife.

Parsons says he took the assignment because "I'm a lawyer nearing the end of my career, it's probably the most important case in the world today, and I want to see this man has a fair trial."

Berman, head of a Manhattan law firm, said: "I've felt all my life a man is entitled to a defense and I was asked to assist."

Berman said Cooper asked him last August at a bar association meeting in Philadelphia to join the defense "because, I
